5.3 INSTALLATION DETAILS

Mid wall mounted split type air-conditioning units:

Supply and install midwall, reverse cycle, split type air-conditioning units, of the or similar and other approved by the Department of Health mid wall mounted type, mounted at high level with built in no-volt circuitry requiring manual re-set. The units shall be self-contained and set to deliver air that is filtered, dehumidified, heated and cooled. The evaporator / blower coil unit shall be mounted at high level just below the ceiling and the condensing units mounted in the position indicated on site on the external wall.

The rates shall allow for inter-connecting refrigerant pipe work and cables. The Tenderer shall supply and install Weatherproof isolators enclosures at high level adjacent to the condensing units.

Power supply: The units shall be single phase – 220volt – 50Hz.

The air handling/evaporator section shall be of the slim line three speed fan type and be securely fixed to the wall with loose type “Rawl” bolts including drilling mortices in brickwork or concrete. The air shall discharge from the front of the unit and the airflow grille shall be adjustable so that the air stream may be directed as required.

If available controls shall be hard wired to evaporator unit, otherwise remote controls shall be contained in a pouch mounted adjacent to the air handling unit 1500 mm from floor level and screwed to and including plugs in the wall.

Condensing and air-handling units.

The condenser section, of the split type air-conditioning unit, shall be mounted on and including the manufacturer's standard galvanised support brackets "Rawl" bolted to the external wall, in the position which shall be indicated on site, by means of loose bolt type "Rawl" bolts, including drilling mortises in brickwork or concrete. Plastic wall plugs with screws will not be acceptable. The unit shall be installed 2000 mm above ground level. (Final height shall be verified on site). The unit shall be wired directly into the weatherproof isolator, which shall be provided on the external wall adjacent to the condensing unit by others.

All visible interconnecting refrigerant piping and cables, between evaporator and condenser, within the building shall be run in suitably sized PVC trunking. All exposed interconnecting refrigerant piping, condensate drain piping and cables outside the building shall be run in suitably sized galvanised sheet metal trunking painted to match the outside walls. After and below the condensing unit the condensate' from the evaporator and condensing unit, shall be piped in PVC piping saddled to the wall and terminate at ground level into the concrete surface drain, rain water down-pipe or gully.

All bolts and washers used for these purposes shall be either stainless steel or nickel coated mild steel. Cadmium coated fixings are unacceptable.

The condenser shall consist of a hermetically sealed compressor, condenser coil, condenser fan and motor. A suitable liquid line dryer shall be provided either as part of the condensing unit or as a separately supplied and installed unit.

The inside air handling section shall consist of an evaporator coil, corrosion resistant condensate drip tray, supply air fans, fan scrolls, fan motor, controls and efficient filters. The supply air louvre shall be of the adjustable range type with manual and automated air flow direction control, with horizontal and downward air sweep discharge as standard.

The condensing section and the air handling section shall each be housed in heavy gauge, easily detachable attractive steel or PVC casings.

All parts of the chassis and cabinets shall be suitably treated against corrosion and the exterior of the casings shall be finished in high quality stove enamel if metal. The casings shall be thermally and acoustically insulated, and be easily removable to allow access to all components.

Prior to the air-conditioning unit being delivered to site, the steel casing and the chassis of the condenser section shall be further treated with an anti-corrosive coating on interior and exterior surfaces.

Evaporator Coil

The evaporator coils shall consist of a multi/pass coil of heavy gauge, solid drawn copper tubing mechanically expanded into aluminium cooling fins. The coil shall be provided with an automatic defrost thermostat to prevent excessive frosting.

The evaporator coil shall be suitable mounted to the steel or PVC chassis and shall be completely sealed off to ensure that maximum supply air flows over the coil.

Condenser Fan

The condensers fan shall be of the corrosion resistant, "silent operation", dynamically balanced propeller type. The fan shall be driven by a continuously rated, totally enclosed resiliently mounted electric motor of the single phase, permanent split capacitor type with built-in resetable overload protection. The fan motor shall be fitted with self-aligning sealed bearings.

Condenser coil

The condenser coil shall be of the single pass type, of heavy gauge, solid drawn copper tubing mechanically expanded into aluminium cooling fins. The coil shall be suitably mounted directly to the steel chassis and shall be provided with a suitable fan shroud to afford maximum air movement across the entire coil.

Filters

The air filters shall be easily accessible and removable, of the dry media type, manufactured of material that may be washed with a mild detergent.

The filter media shall be of glass or synthetic fibre material at least 5 mm thick enclosed between two supporting frames. The filter media may alternatively be of inherently stiffened material and in either instance arranged so that no air bypasses the filter at edges or between frames.

Heaters

Heating shall be by reverse cycle.

Sound Level

The units shall be efficient and extremely quiet in operation and the noise level shall not exceed 33 dB on the "A" scale at a distance of three metres from the unit.

Refrigerant Piping

The interconnecting refrigerant tubing between the condenser section and the air handling section shall be of the best quality seamless, dehydrated, de-oxidised refrigeration class copper tubing, suitably sized for the unit installed.

All fittings shall be of copper or brass, refrigeration quality silfos or silver solder welding rods. Soft soldered fittings or joints will not be acceptable.

The suction and liquid lines shall be completely insulated against ambient temperatures to prevent condensation drip by using good quality insulation such as "Thermoflex", "Primaflex" or other approved. The non-drip tape type of pipe insulation will not be acceptable.

The tubing shall be in trunking as described above.

Where copper saddles are used they shall be of the same diameter of the insulation so as not to squeeze the insulation to the piping and minimising the effective cross sectional area of the insulation.

Kinked or flattened copper tubing is to be discarded, as it is not acceptable. Any length of tubing, which is damaged in this manner, shall have that section cut out of the length and suitably rejoined.

The pipe runs shall be neat and the best quality workmanship shall be employed.

Care shall be taken to ensure proper oil return to the compressor. The copper tubing shall be connected to the condensing unit and the air-handling unit by means of quick-coupler type connections fitted with "schrader" valves for testing, purging and recharging.

All refrigerant is to flow through replaceable element type drier units.

Condensate

The condensate line from the air handling and condensing section shall be of PVC set to falls and sized to suit the drain connections, however no smaller than 15 mm diameter. The condensate drainpipe from the air-conditioning unit shall be fixed to wall neatly saddled throughout the entire pipe run using saddles spaced at intervals of not more than one metre and terminate onto the concrete apron at ground level.

Controls

The air-conditioning units shall be fitted with the following controls: -

- i) A main on/off switch to control the unit.
- ii) An adjustable cooling thermostat to control room temperature as required.
- iii) A variable fan speed control switch.
- iv) An automatic de-ice thermostat shall be fitted as standard to the condensing unit.

5.5.2 Builders Work
