

INKANYEZI YASEMPHUMULO

From the Hospital Manager's Desk

It has been quite some time since there has been a publication of this nature at this institution. One of the reason for this has been that the institution lost it's P.R.O through resignation. When the new P.R.O was appointed he spent time finding his feet and doing situational analysis and trying to address more urgent issues. I take this opportunity to welcome Mr Thabo Sithole our new P.R.O.

2006 has begun and the timing of the newsletter is perfect as 666 number has come and gone and most of us are very much alive. It just shows us that God's ways can not be predicted by man. Like the whole Province, the institution faces the pandemic of HIV&AIDS, TB and a need for improved women's health. There is a need for the institution to put strategies in place that will address these issues. The commitment of employees to address needs of patients has been noticed and undue gratitude is being expressed here. The Managers at different levels have walked an extra mile in most instances to try and improve the environment at which personnel are expected to perform their duties. A heartfelt thank you goes to everyone who has made work interesting and challenging.

Mrs T.D Chiliza
Hospital Manager

Lastly the institution is always striving for excellence. It is this reason that everyone's ideas are important and that is why John Maxwell states that 'What is important is ideas'. Thank you all.

A-REMARKABLE INCIDENT

On the 3rd of January 2006, a negative incident was reported via Out patient department whereby a new born baby boy was brought in by the police and two elderly ladies, having found him in the bush being abandoned by the mother. The baby had maggots on the body and ears. According to Dr Kotagiris assessment, the umbilical cord was 8cm long and septic. Two days later, maggots were coming out from the cord stump and through the ears. The baby was admitted in in Peadiatric Ward. Few days later our Physiotherapist decided to name the infant Smanga thus referring Wonders. Bongwiwe Msomi a General Assistant displayed her uncompromised empathy by blessing the infant with a bag of clothing. The social worker managed to trace the family and found the grandmother of Smanga. He would grow up one day and be a man. Who knows maybe our future President!

Special points of interest:

- ♦ Today before you think of saying an unkind word, Think of someone who can't speak
- ♦ Before you complain about your husband or wife, Think of someone who's crying out to God for a companion
- ♦ Before you complain about your children, Think of someone who desires children

Inservice Training Department

The inservice training department at Umphumulo Hospital is continueing as Inservice programs are being done and facilitated every month. The inservice trainer is now looking at the enforcement of product of this department in terms of knowledge, nursing skills and ethical conduct as the management still get some complains about behavioral attitudes of staff and poor service delivery. This is evidenced by both internal and external audits conducted from time to time in this institution. The inservice training is committed in promoting quality care through developing and capacitating all staff in different levels.

In conclusion, may I thank our management by their support and encouragement. Let us all join our hands in learning new trends, participate in innovations to produce quality service to our community.
