I greet you all my colleagues

It’s a great pleasure to meet you in spring. The chilly season is partially moving away. I would like to take this opportunity to highlight on what we have had in the last few weeks:

Malnutrition

I like to thank the community support and commitment of hospital staff during the malnutrition project. Without your inputs it could be not be successful.

The women’s Day Celebration:

I like to thank the Guest Speakers that we had during that day. I would like to appreciate the speeches they gave and their utterances were inspiring to the women. We proud of our women.

Women are the engines of homes, motivators where there is a depression and reducers of distress. They love their families with unconditional love, have an omen with their families. They don’t hold grudges and urge God to forgive those who are dictators of their lives to progress.

Thank you God bless you.

I wish those who want to be good women in the future God to full fill their dreams and prosper in life. Thank you
People have different attitudes regarding the use of money. Others believe that if you have a lot of money then you definitely have happiness. Others prefer not to have money in the bank but rather invest it such as policies, bonds and pensions etc.

Some people love money more than themselves and they don’t even take care of themselves as long they earn a lot of money they feel good. For example, they don’t even buy clothes, they don’t care what type of food they eat, and they don’t even care whether their families are suffering.

The lucky ones, they have friends who advise them when they get astray and greedy.

Some people makes a lot of money daily but they don’t respect other people who are pilgrims. They don’t know that life is turning.

Even though you have money or not, please respect yourself, respect those around you and be humble yourself. This is the best investment above all and in earthly.

If we have love to one another we will succeed.

Money makes the world go around
But, money can’t buy love.
WELCOME MEC FEEL AT HOME AT KWA MAGWAZA HOSPITAL

THE MEC: DR. SIBONGISENI DLOMO ACCOMPANIED BY THE MANAGEMENT OF THE HOSPITAL AND HOSPITAL BOARD MEMBERS.

“My name is Mphumzeni Khanyile. I have more than 5 years in this Department. My duty in this Department is to fulfill the Death Certificates. I’m not scared to see a dead person like before when I just started. (I’m a born again person) I’m not a short tempered person, but sympathetic and friendly at all times”. “Others wish to photocopy my personality but it’s difficult”.

There are times where the Infection Control Practitioners used to visit that working place. I’m so impressed to see that because they are interested in the cleanliness of the Department.

Did you know that God loves us and where ever we are? I have no doubt that God is present and he is watching over us day and night even in our absence. God is there.

TO render the service to clients it is our priority in implement Batho Pele Principles to satisfy our clients. When I’m at work I forget my personal problems and always focused. Some times others came with distress and frustration because they lost their loved ones. My responsibility is to comforts them and tell me that “ukhona oMdala wezin-suku ongaguquki” they must trust him in all situations of life.

Mphumzeni Khanyile Welcomes you to Mortuary Department

On 19 August 2009 we took a journey Correctional Service education about Swine Flu H1N1. It is on the verge to harm all global citizens. Symptoms of it are same like the normal flu just worse. Sister Thandeka Mgwaba urged them if they see the symptoms of normal flu continues after 7 days they must report it to the officials and will make some means to rescue the life of our fellow brother or sister.

More questions raised related to the pandemic. Some of them decided not to eat any pig products because they heard that the cause H1N1 Swine Flu comes from pigs. It is not true the pig. But Sister Mgwaba clarified upon the questions raised whether wild pig can be eater. Sister had good answers according to all the questions that had been raised.

The Correctional Service staff accompanied us during the presentation of Swine Flu H1N1 in Jail. The awareness was so successful and they benefited a lot from that. In Jail there is no one with H1N1. Most people in Jail they experienced normal flu and they always visit Kwa Magwaza Hospital to get medication and updates.

Oral Education was not enough but others preferred to get the hand out. Health care ambassador sometimes they will update themselves in their places where they stay about the lessons, those hands out state clearly the symptoms of that flu but are partially same like the normal flu, the normal flu doesn’t take week but the Swine Flu H1N1 can take a week or more that. People be must aware of that, and must be seriously about that pandemic.
Mrs. E.T. Sithole put final nail on the coffin to emphasize that community must not hesitate to visit the nearest clinic for health purposes.

X-ray is an integral part of any health care system. It is actually estimated that about 30% to 50% of critical medical decisions are based on x-ray examinations. Because of its contribution towards patients’ clinical management, X-ray is a 24-hour service in most hospitals.

Here at Kwa Magwaza hospital we are using mainly conventional radiography. About 600 – 700 patients are x-rayed every month. Chest x-ray is the most common examination done. X-ray is used to help doctors identify a problem (to make a diagnosis). A doctor may request an x-ray for a person who is involved in a motor vehicle accident, injury resulting from sport, those with chest pains, having problems in swallowing food and many more. The list of clinical problems that may need x-rays are many and all cannot be listed here.

Other than the x-ray, KwaMagwaza hospital also offers ultrasound services. Most patients using this service are women. Just like x-rays, ultrasound is used to check inside the patient. For instance it is used to assess the pregnancy and determine the wellbeing of a baby in the womb. Unfortunately, the current ultrasound machine is so old such that some of its operational functions are no longer in use.

It is against this background and supported by the realization of the enormous contribution that ultrasound makes towards patient care that the Hospital Management decided to dig dipper and approve the purchase of a new ultrasound machine. The x-ray staff and on behalf of the many patients who would benefit from this noble gesture wishes to thank the Hospital Management.

The X-ray staff also wish to take this opportunity to congratulate Zinzi (senior radiographer) for her new born baby girl.
Izingane ziyisipho esivela ku uMdali, yena uzazi sinqakazi boni ngamehle enyama ziselihlule no mama wengane usuke engakazi ukuthi lokhu akuthwele kuzophila noma qha.
