CLAIRWOOD HOSPITAL JOINS FET PHINDANGENE LEARNING CENTRE TO CELEBRATE HEALTH AWARENESS DAY

Phindangene learners during the event

Taking charge of your health means proactively taking responsibility of your physical being by taking simple steps which leads to a long term wellness.

The FET Health awareness day event which was held at Phindangene learning centre was a confirmation that although eThekwini district carries a severe burden of diseases, this war can be won if such events are multiplied and focus on teenagers and youth.

Clairwood hospital Gateway clinic Registered Nurse Ms T Naidoo who heads school health did not mince her words when she spoke in this event about the dangers of teenage pregnancies. And how the hospital provide youth friendly services.

RN Naidoo told the audience about pregnancy prevention methods such as abstinence, use of condoms, and taking of contraceptives.

Questions from the learners were so on point and were encouraging to the team which was able to answer all questions.

At the end of the event leaners were empowered.
